BABIES DEPENDENT ON THEIR MOTHERS

For Chance to Win Prize in Contest.

By JULIA CHANDLER MANZ.

The Borden's Baby Contest closes November 6, which means that it is now almost half over.

This is a serious fact when one considers the number of charming babies in Washington and its vicinity who should be given a chance to win one of the valuable 250 prizes offered them free, and who, so far, have not come to the contest at all.

Of course there have been entered hundreds of beautiful children, hundreds of cute, bright, happy, healthy youngsters whose homes are in all sections of the city, or within a radius of twenty-five miles, but this isn't enough.
The Herald shall not consider the contest has been of its highest service to the children of Washington and their mothers, unless every little tot under three years of age is given the opportunity to win the $50 in gold or some one of the other splendid prizes offered the prettiest babies in our vicinity.

It isn't fair to the little ones, you know, when The Herald has planned so big an event as the Borden Baby Contest for them for a single mother to deny them the privilege of winning a prize.

Pictures Cost Nothing.

Every possible obstacle that might lie in the path of the kiddies was met before it was even given voice, for The Herald foresaw that some parents might object to the expense of having pictures made specially for this purpose, and arranged to have Mr. Bachrach make all pictures for the contest free to the parents of the children, thus removing any expense attached to them in giving the dear children in their homes a chance.

A few days ago I met the mother of a lovely little maid and asked if she was going to enter the baby in the contest.

"I haven't a decent picture of her," was the objection that it would cost her nothing to have one made.

"Oh, it's so much trouble to fuss around at the photographer. It would take a whole morning or afternoon, and I just hate to have it done," she said.

I simply looked at her in blank amazement. The little maid raised her great wistful eyes to her mother's face—too young for reproach, they were, but deep and appealing for that.

"It would take a morning or an afternoon," I had been told indifferently.
And what pray is a morning or an afternoon in comparison to the chance of winning $50 in gold for baby or a beautiful brass bed, perhaps?

Deplorably Selfish Mother.

That any mother could be so selfish seemed to me impossible, but here was one who had one of the most beautiful children I ever saw and who refused to give her a chance just because it was a little trouble!

It isn't fair, dear lady!

For, you see, the little kiddies are very helpless in the matter. They can't go out alone and win these handsome prizes for themselves. They are dependent upon mother for their chance in this, as they are dependent upon her for the rest of their life being.

Almost daily the list of prizes to be awarded have been published in the columns of The Washington Herald.
For fear that they have escaped some mother's attention, I am republishing them here to-day, with the hope that every mother who has not yet entered her baby in the contest will make it a matter of conscience to do so as soon now as possible, for, as I said in the beginning of this talk to you, the contest is now almost half over, and you haven't much time to lose.

Here are the prizes that will be awarded 250 of the loveliest babies in Washington and its vicinity when the contest closes on November 16:

FIRST PRIZE—$50 IN GOLD.

2d Prize—Handsome Child's Crib, solid brass, satin finished. Complete, with best Springs, Mattress, Feather Pillow, and Spread.
Value, $40. (Purchased from and on exhibition at W. B. Moses & Sons.)

3d Prize—Diamond Set Solid Gold Baby Locket and Chain. (Purchased from and on exhibition at Galt & Bro's.)

4th Prize—Handsome Go-Cart; best made. (Purchased from and on exhibition at Woodward & Lothrop's.)

5th Prize—Child's Solid Silver Gold-lined Bowl and Plate, suitably engraved. (Purchased from and on exhibition at Galt & Bro's.)

6th Prize—$10 in Gold.

7th Prize—Child's Solid Silver Gold-lined Cup, suitably engraved. (Purchased from and on exhibition at Galt & Bro's.)

Solid Sterling Silver Baby
Spoons.

The Next Fifty Awards—A Silver Medal each.

The Next One Hundred Awards—
A Diploma each.

EASTER BABY ENTERED IN BORDEN BABY CONTEST

WILLIAM ARCHIBALD KENGLA, Aged six months.

AN EASY PUZZLE PROMISED FOR WORK OF ANOTHER WEEK

Just to make up to you for all your troubles of the past week I am going to give you an exceptionally easy puzzle to-morrow.

See if I don't!
Not that any one has complained.
The fact is that many members of the Puzzle Circle declared the Halloween puzzle the most entertaining of any we have ever had in spite of its many difficulties, which only goes to prove that no one who reads The Herald's Page for Every Woman is in the least afraid of knotty problems.

Following are two of the delightful expressions of appreciation received last week from puzzles, one of which comes from a little friend of puzzles who has followed them week after week whenever I have been under whatever name I have talked to you—little Miss Helen Gould, whose home is 406 Sixth street northwest. Here is her little letter:

"Dear Mrs. Manz:
"I tried very hard to crack a nut somewhere, and find a hobgoblin, but the hobgoblin would not reveal either, and the mystery would not give a solution to me, so I am compelled to send in five blanks, and don't think twenty-six is right, but I love the puzzles so and you too, I must try them every week, and as I stand no show with the babies, I'll have to stick to the puzzles."

Sincerely your little friend,
"HELEN GOULD,"
"Aged fourteen years."

Another Appreciation.
"My Dear Mrs. Manz:
"This really is one of the most clever puzzles you have published and most pleasant. Thanking you for the pleasure the little tangle has given me, I am, cordially yours,
"BERTHIE L. FARRELLY."

LAUGHTER IS ESSENTIAL TO THE BUSINESS WOMAN

One can be lonely amid thousands. It was a lonely girl in the city, who found an avenue of escape from the weighty problems confronting her six days in the week. She tells it best.

"I was so lonely and knew so few in the city and, oh, how I used to envy a crowd of girls enjoying a real laugh. One day I asked myself if I had actually come to that place where a real laugh was no longer a possibility, and I am afraid that I felt the truth of it, that everything was against it. Then it occurred to me that a laugh could be bought. I made up my mind to attend a vaudeville theater. I knew it was anything but educational enlightenment, but what need had I, a working girl, for a mental feast at the opera or music hall? I needed a genuine shake-up-my-liver laugh. I was genuinely humorous and I did not mind my money's worth in idiotic laughter.
The next time I attended I took a little friend of mine whose face was almost sphinx-like with lines of sorrow, and I was certain that she laughed a handful of nails out of her coffin."

"At this particular time my manager was cross, my room cold, and at night, meals over before I arrived at my boarding-house, so I took to vaudeville my time at intervals. I know it sounds tame and even common, but if I had not taken these mental baths of nonsense once in a while I would have been going around picking imaginary things out of the atmosphere."

with 3-4 of a yard of 27-inch contrasting fabric, 14 yard of 18-inch all-over lace, and 2-14 yards of edging to trim.
The above pattern can be obtained by sending 10 cents to the office of this paper.

SAVE THE PENNIES NOW FOR CHRISTMAS

A penny saved is a penny won—and an excellent means of getting together Christmas money is to commence at once and lay aside each one-cent piece that finds its way into the pocketbook.
Many girls commence the day after Christmas to put into a penny savings bank each cent that they acquire in changing larger coins, and when the year is up they are invariably astonished to find what a nice little store of wealth has been thus easily accumulated.

A certain penny in itself is a mere nothing, certainly nothing of a deprivation to keep instead of spending, and yet it is remarkable how soon pennies saved in this way turn into dollars.

One enterprising girl was known to get together enough money to buy for herself a much-covered bit of jewelry by simply asking each older member of her family to save for her any pennies that they found in their possession at the end of each day—which shows what a little thrift and keen business spirit can accomplish.

A girl who is interested in any special charity can also get for it many spare pennies by keeping on her desk or table a pretty penny bank. If the box is attractively incased in silk or velvet it will at once attract attention and when the object is disclosed and you insist that it is only pennies you are asking, every penny will be gladly opened.

In this waist we have one of the more dressy styles and yet it is very simple of construction. The kimono shoulder is used and the neck is trimmed with a large sailor collar. In addition there is a small chemise, which may be omitted for dressy occasions if desired.
Silk, satin, crepe fabrics, cashmere and many of the novelties can be used for this bodice, and lace for trimming.
The pattern, 5612, is cut in sizes 22 to 42 inches bust measure. Medium size requires 3-5 yards of 27-inch material.

INTERESTING GAMES FOR HALLOWEEN

The Sea of Life.

A round wooden washbasin will do nicely for a modern sea of life, or a china bowl if the company is small. English walnuts form the little ships, which are launched on the sea, their sails of letter paper secured with sealing wax. Each boat is named. Then the sea of life is launched and the waters become ruffled and angry. Some boats will congregate together in a friendly and sociable manner. Others will sail to distant countries across the waters.

The Dumb Cake.

The dumb cake should be made between the hours of 10 and 11, and the dough must be mixed with water not from a spring, which is simple enough these days. Each young woman takes a handful of flour and mixes it with a pinch of salt on a sheet of white paper.
Then she mixes in the river water and rolls it into a little cake, marking it with her initials with a new pin. The dumb cakes are placed in the oven, and on the stroke of midnight enter the men of the party and each chooses his cake, a very precarious choice indeed, since the initials are to be those of his wife, and if the cake is all dough, so much the worse for him. No word is spoken during the performance.

The Mystery of the Ball of Yarn.

Put out the lights for this old rite and let all the guests stand in a row just inside the window, facing the room. All hold out the left hands with the thumb and middle finger clasping a ring. The end player holds a ball of coarse yarn, which passes back to the window through each of the rings, and is then thrown down out of the window. The one who holds the end begins to wind it, and all repeat in chorus:
"Wind, wind, wind, ball wind!
Good luck, bad luck! What shall he find?"
If anything catches the thread and jerks it, they ask, "Who does hold?"
"Who does hold? Who does hold?"
Iron, copper, silver, gold?
Iron, copper, and silver will break the yarn, indicating losses and ill omens generally. Gold will let it come free.

MAKES FACE LOOK YEARS YOUNGER

In the beauty column of the Los Angeles Press we find the following, written by that eminent authority, Mae Marlyn:

"Women who have been doing their faces with powder and vainly striving to attain beautiful complexions will get the desired results by using instead of face powder a good spumax lotion. Such a lotion can be made at small cost by dissolving 4 ounces of spumax in 1/2 pint hot water, then add 2 teaspoonful glycerine. Or, to make the lotion dry more quickly when applied to the skin, 1/2 pint witch hazel can be used instead of the water.

"This simple lotion is unequalled for refreshing one's complexion. It makes the skin so soft, smooth, and velvety and takes away that shiny, oily, yellow look.
It does not show on the skin, nor does it rub off easily like powder. Those who use this lotion and it such a splendid skin whitener and complexion beautifier that they are seldom without it on their dressing table."

WHAT OTHER WOMEN HAVE FOUND GOOD

English Bonita Padding.

Mix six ounces of sugar with three yolks of eggs, then add the juice and grated rind of two lemons; melt one-quarter of an ounce of gelatin in half a glass of boiling water and mix with the above ingredients, lastly adding the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs and stir in lightly and put in glass dish or mold to set, and serve with whipped cream on top and chopped Pistachio nuts.

Marshmallow Cream.

One tablespoon Knox gelatin, dissolved in cold water. Add one cup boiling water afterward, one cup sugar. Beat whites of four eggs stiff. Then add gelatin and beat until stiff. Color half with fruit coloring. After dividing the above mixture add to the colored part juice of one lemon; to the white part add one teaspoon of vanilla. Wet a mold and fill with alternate layers of white and pink.
When cold serve with whipped cream.

Hot Maple Nougat.

Boil two cups of maple sirup and a lump of butter the size of a walnut until it forms a soft ball when dropped into cold water. Add half a cup of chopped pecans and keep warm over hot water until ready to serve. Then pour it while hot over each serving of ice cream—vanilla is best—and the nougat will candy deliciously when it touches the frozen sweet.

Graham Pudding.

One-half cup molasses, one-half cup sugar, one egg, one-third cup lard, one-fourth teaspoonful salt on the lard, one cup sour milk, one teaspoonful soda, one-third teaspoonful baking powder, one teaspoonful cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful cloves, two cups graham flour, one-half cup raisins, chopped fine. Bake in moderate oven. Serve with cream and sugar.

Fruit Cream.

Fruit cream with frosted marshmal-lows—Dissolve two level tablespoons of cornstarch in a little cold water, then pour in one cupful of boiling water; while this is boiling dip twelve marshmallows in beaten white of egg, then roll in granulated sugar and place on ice at once. Add to the cornstarch one cupful of soft fruit, peaches or berries, that have been pressed through a sieve, one cupful of sugar, and two-thirds of a pint of whipped cream. Turn into small molds. When cold, invert and border with frosted marshmallows, top with whipped cream. A dainty and pleasing dessert.

Mexican Pie.

Line a pie tin with pastry and bake it.
Take the yolk of four eggs, four tea-spoonfuls of water, four tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar. Beat these up together to a frothy consistency and spread over the bottom of the pie crust.
Put in the oven and slightly brown. Beat up the whites of the eggs and make a stiff meringue. Put half of this in the pie, put in the oven and slightly brown, then add the other half on the top and slightly brown again. This is better eaten cold and tastes like a rich caramel dessert.
